Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133).
- Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-5, drawn to a card for insertion into a receiving slot of a host computer, classified in class 361, subclass 737.
- II. Claims 6-14, drawn to a process of manufacturing a card, classified in class 29, subclass 830.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions II and I are related as process of making and product made. The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process (MPEP § 806.05(f)). In the instant case a process of manufacturing a card can be made by an injection molding instead of plastic flows around tabs of the card.

.Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

During a telephone conversation with Mr. Robert J. Kapalka (Reg. No. 34,198) on October 4, 2001 a provisional election was made with traverse to prosecute the invention of Group I, claims 1-5. Affirmation of this election must be made by applicant in replying to this Office action. Claims 6-14 withdrawn from further consideration by the examiner, 37 CFR 1.142(b), as being drawn to a non-elected invention.

Specification

The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities:

Page 6, line 1, change "circuit board 12" to --circuit board 14--.

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Laity (U. S. Patent 5,984,731) in view of Fun et al. (U. S. Patent 6,166,913).

As to claim 1, Laity discloses a card (10, column 4, line 49) for insertion into a receiving slot (14, column 4, line 55) of a host computer (12, column 4, line 54), said card comprising:

a circuit board (160-figure 7, column 6, line 46);

a connector (34, column 5, line 13) electrically connected to said circuit board (160) and adapted for electrically connecting said circuit board to a host computer (12);

a housing having said circuit board (160) mounted therein and configured to provide access to said connector (34), said housing comprising a metal panel (60, column 5, line 26) interconnected to a plastic panel (50, column 5, line 23), said metal panel comprising a plurality of tabs thereon, said plastic panel having one or more cavities (146,148, column 6, line 42) receiving said tabs (64); and wherein the plastic of said plastic panel at least partially engulfs said tabs to prevent withdrawal of said tabs from said one or more cavities and thereby interconnect said plastic and metal panels (column 5, lines 32-41).

Laity does not disclose a metal panel comprising a plurality of tabs with barbs. Fun shows a card (1) having a metal panel (20) including a plurality of tabs (26) with barbs (261) disclosed in figure 1.

It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the card of Laity and provide the tabs with barbs as taught by Fun in order to provide an interlocking frame together.

As to claim 2, Laity discloses the card (10) as shown in figures 1-7 wherein said card is a PCMCIA card (column 4, lines 48-49).

As to claim 3, Laity discloses the card as shown in figures 1-7 wherein said card conforms to the PCMCIA, Type III standard (column 2, line 26).standard.

As to claim 4, Laity discloses the card as shown in figures 1-7 further comprising a second connector (82).

As to claim 5, Laity discloses the card as shown in figures 1-7 wherein said second connector is an RJ-xx series connector (column 5, lines 45-47).

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Zarek et al. And Feldman et al. disclose related art.
